In final tribute to these friends who have gone,

We pause, amid the rush of life, we say a prayer;

And in that prayer, we put a wealth of feeling

And doing so, commend them to God's care.

Class History — 1962

By Elaine Jones

"You" the seniors of 1962 should remember that day four years ago when you entered high school. After eight years of diligent preparation in the three R's, we eagerly, but also a bit warily, looked forward to our first day as high school freshmen.

Our freshman year was full of excitement and new experiences. Homecoming was the first important event. Our float entry was "The 49's," and Georgianna Rossmiller was chosen as an attendant in the queen's court. We also elected our class officers. Charles Schrader was chosen president; Terry Russell, vice-president; William Taylor, secretary; and Janice Van Horn, treasurer.

Summer vacation ended all too quickly, and before we knew it we were back in school—but now as sophomores. By this time we had become used to high school procedures and had settled down to some serious studying. "Friends, Romans, Countrymen, lend me your ears!" could be heard in the halls of P.H.S. as we studied Julius Caesar.

Our homecoming attendant that year was Eileen Brockway, and our float was "TV Time." Our class officers were Janice Van Horn, president; James Kemmerer, vice-president; Keith Stenzel, secretary; and Pamela Sandvall, treasurer. For the first time frosh-soph cheerleaders were chosen, and Elaine Jones and Susan Raddatz made the squad. We had already started worrying about making money for the prom by checking coats at games, plays, and concerts.

As we entered school again in September 1960, after our three-month summer vacation, we had a different air about us. Now we were upperclassmen. To lead us through that busy year we chose Terry Russell, president; Regina George, vice-president; Larry Kachel, secretary; and James Kemmerer, treasurer.

For the theme of our homecoming float we chose a quotation from Macbeth, "Double, double, toil and trouble, fires burn and cauldrons bubble." Janice Van Horn was the junior homecoming attendant, and Judy Schempf was elected a cheerleader.

For our junior class play we presented a three-act comedy, The Unguided Miss.

The highlight of the year was the Junior-Senior Banquet and Prom. An outdoor cafe and a starlit sky done in pink and lavender beautifully portrayed our theme, "Paris By Night."

Then at last we were seniors. We had reached the top-rung in the ladder. Chosen as president for the Class of '62 was Gary Pemble; vice-president, Janice Van Horn; secretary, Rebecca Connell; and treasurer, Sue Smiley.

We were especially proud of our prize-winning homecoming float, "The Family Portrait." Janice Van Horn reigned as queen of the homecoming festivities, and Regina George was her senior attendant.

The senior-faculty game, the musical Oklahoma!, sports, dances, and club activities made the months pass quickly.

In April the curtain rose for the presentation of our senior class play, Thunder on Sycamore Street.

Our high school days had been filled with hard work and loads of fun. We looked to the future with mixed emotions. As we eighty-six seniors donned our caps and gowns for that final commencement exercise, we realized, "We have crossed the bay, the ocean lies before us."

FIELDER STAFF

THE FIELDER IS PREPARED

Each of the four page editors gives the literary editor a list of stories to go on his page.

After this list is received, the layout editor plans each page, giving each story a specific word count. Then the assignments are passed out to the reporters.

Approximately ten days later the stories are due. The editors and advisors then proofread each of the stories.

The stories are then typed by the girls in office practice class and sent to the printer to be set up for the paper.

THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS OF NEWS

On November 25, 1925, Plainfield High School published its first paper called the Plainfield HI TIMES.

In this first paper there appeared an article stating the purposes for publishing the newspaper. The article stated, "The HI TIMES will help students understand the newspaper world better, will teach students to write a vivid and accurate story in the fewest words and most concise manner possible, and will provide the village with a complete and attractive journal of the news at Plainfield High School."

The Future Homemakers of America, sponsored by Janet Otto, belongs to a national organization. The theme for this year was "Careers." In carrying out this theme the girls were visited by a hair stylist, a banker, and a man from the F.B.I.

The Future Homemakers of America is dedicated to the concepts of building a better home life, improving the community, and strengthening democracy. To these ends they continually strive.

SECOND ROW: Georgia Williams, advisor; Mary Peterson, Patricia Flagg, Eileen Brockway, DeLane Overman, Elaine Jones, Janice Van Horn, Mary Lang, Holly Herath.

The largest organization in the school is the G.A.A. Members of this active club participate in soccer, basketball, bowling, modern dance, tumbling, volleyball, softball, and archery to gain points for awards, which they receive at the end of the year.

This year the G.A.A. donated new equipment to the athletic department, consisting of a cage ball and a set of a dozen small scooters.

During the year Plainfield was represented by G.A.A. members at various playdays, where the girls participated in team sports. Each summer two girls attend G.A.A. camp at Conference Point, Green Bay, Wisconsin.

An event looked forward to by all G.A.A. members is the annual picnic, held at the last G.A.A. meeting. This climaxes the events of the G.A.A. year.
